CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SECOND EDITION OF THE
'Yearbook on the Rule of Law and European Values – RoLEV'

The School of Law of UCLan Cyprus and the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence for the Rule of Law and European Values (CRoLEV) are pleased to invite contributions to the 2nd edition of the Yearbook on the Rule of Law and European Values – RoLEV.

The peer-reviewed Yearbook RoLEV is an important output of CRoLEV that will be published by May 2025 (2nd issue). All submissions will undergo a double peer-reviewed process under the supervision of the CRoLEV Editorial Board. The Editorial Board consists of a diverse team of experts specialising in various areas relating to the rule of law and European values. You can meet our editorial board here

Submissions

The Yearbook RoLEV is an output that seeks to contribute to ongoing debates about the state of the rule of law, democracy, and other European values across the EU. We therefore invite contributions from researchers working in different disciplines that study and investigate such themes. CRoLEV has already undertaken work in analysing specific aspects of the rule of law. In particular, we have identified specific pillars that relate to the rule of law and which, in our view, warrant further exploration, which you can view here.

We therefore invite submissions that relate to themes included in those pillars, such as, but not limited to:

- Civic engagement, the relationship between rule of law protections and grass-roots political participation, structures of democracy, political participation, and/or citizen empowerment, both from empirical and theoretical perspectives;
- Democratic governance and the relationship between rule of law and democracy, including institution and non-institutional means of safeguarding the rule of law in a democratic state (anti-corruption, transparency, access to information, free press), both from empirical and theoretical perspectives.

Submissions should take the form of original research in the form of a scientific article (8000-10000 words). The deadline for the submission of a complete manuscript is the 21st of March 2025. Selected submissions will be notified by April 2025. All submissions will then undergo double blind review.

All submissions must be sent to crolev@uclancyprus.ac.cy
